Directors Elect D. L. Helffrich Vice-President; Add Rev. J. M. Niblo to Board Membership

Helffrich Resigns at Gimbel's To Fulfill Business Duties Here

DIRECTOR PROMINENT RECTOR

Attorney Donald L. Helffrich, of Lansdowne, was elected vice-president of Ursinus College at an adjourned meeting of the Ursinus Board of Directors held July 2.

The position of vice-president had been vacant since the death of Dr. J. M. S. Isenberg six years ago.

Attorney Helffrich will handle the business end of the College's executive work and comes well qualified in this capacity.

Mr. Helffrich will be remembered as one of the best athletes ever produced by Ursinus. He starred in football, basketball and baseball. He was captain of the football team and was noted for his aggressiveness and leadership ability.

He is a son of the late Rev. William U. Helffrich of Bath. His mother is at present connected with the College as preceptress of Clamer Hall.

Mr. Helffrich was graduated from the Mercersburg Academy in 1917, Ursinus College in 1921, and Yale University Law School in 1924. Upon the completion of his law course, he entered the legal department of Gimbel Brothers, in Philadelphia, and for several years has held the responsible position as assistant store manager. He is a director of the Market Street Merchants Association, the Penn-

URSINUS COLLEGE BUYS A. D. FETTEROLF HOME

Will Convert Property Into Girls Dorm to Care for Increase In Enrollment

To take care of an increase in the enrollment, the Board of Directors of Ursinus College, at a special meeting held on Wednesday, September 2, authorized the purchase of the A. D. Fetterolf residence on Main Street, directly opposite the campus. Work on installation of a new heating system, additional bathrooms and general renovation was started at once and the building is expected to be ready for occupancy at the opening of the College next week. The purchase will be financed by gifts from interested friends to whom such a project provides an attractive form of benefaction.

The new dormitory, which immediately adjoins Shreiner Hall, one of the present residences for women, was formerly the home of the late A. D. Fetterolf, for many years a member of the Board of Directors of the College. Its acquisition is in line with the long-established policy of the College in housing its students in comparatively small and homogeneous units, and relieves a situation whereby the overflow of previous years had to be quartered in private homes throughout the town. Accommodations will be provided for twelve girls, together with an apartment for an instructor's family, which will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Hashagen.

NOTICE, ALUMNI!

Announcement has been made by Russell C. Johnson, graduate manager of athletics, that season tickets for the school year 1936-37 are now on sale. The price this year will be $4.65, which includes the federal and Pennsylvania state relief taxes. These passes will admit the holder to all athletic events at Ursinus during the 1936-37 season. They are available to alumni, friends of the College, and residents of Collegeville and vicinity. They may be purchased at any time from Mr. Johnson at his office in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

DR. PHILIP H. GOEPP

DEATH REMOVES DR. GOEPP FROM THE URSINUS FACULTY

Acclaimed for His Compositions And Musical Skill

Ursinus College felt another loss through death of one of its faculty members with the passing of Dr. Philip Henry Goepf, noted composer and musician, who died Tuesday, August 25, in his apartment at the Rittenhouse. Funeral services were held at the first Unitarian Church, of which Dr. Goepf was organist for many years. Dr. Goepf was 72 years of age.

His most famous musical work, perhaps, was an opera, "The Lost Prince," which was played widely and to responsive audiences. He also was the composer of a tone poem, "King Cole"; a Hindu suite for orchestra, as well as numerous songs, anthems and instrumental music.

Program Annotator

He was program annotator for the symphony concerts of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, and was author of "Symphonies and Their Meanings," a three-volume treatise.

He was editor of "Annals of Music in Philadelphia" in 1896, and was a frequent contributor to magazines, mainly on musical subjects.

Since 1930, Dr. Goepf was professor of music at Ursinus College, and instructor in the theory of music at Temple University. He received the degree of Doctor of Music from Temple in 1918.

Native of New York

Dr. Goepf was born in New York, the son of Charles and Martha Neal Goepf. He studied at Stuttgart and Esslingen, in Germany, from 1872 to 1877, and was graduated from Harvard in 1884. He took the LL. B. degree at the University of Pennsylvania in 1888.

He was a member of the Philadelphia Bar, but never practiced law.

Tests and Counselors' Banquet Open Orientation Week Program

The annual freshman pre-matriculation program begins today instead of Saturday as in previous years.

Following the placement examinations in English and foreign languages during the day will be a dinner this evening for the freshmen with President Norman E. McClure presiding. The students will be seated with their respective Faculty counselors.

The freshmen will begin matriculation at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday following a psychological examination at 8:00 o'clock. Tests for guidance purposes at 7:00 p. m. have been substituted for a trip to the Planetarium, Franklin Institute, Philadelphia.

The climax of the program will be the reception and dance Wednesday evening at 8:00 p. m. in the Thompson Gay Gymnasium. Following the example of the past few years the Men's Student Council and the Women's Student Government Association will combine with the "Y" organizations to put on a complete program. The first part of the evening will be devoted to getting the new and old students informally acquainted. The remainder of the evening will be devoted to dancing.

Small Bear Squad Reports to "Mac"

Stevens Returns as Line Coach; Heavy Losses Deplete Reserve Material

BUCKNELL FIRST ON SCHEDULE

Coach Jack McAvoy's hair has thinned out considerably during the summer and for good reason too. Twenty-one men have been deprived of the privilege of donning Ursinus football tags this year. Twelve gridlers were lost via the diploma route, ten of whom saw plenty of action during their sojourn at Collegeville. Seven more who would have filled the gaps caused by graduation will not appear for various reasons. Two men coming up from the freshmen squad have been declared ineligible.

However, the Bears will be able to put one of the heaviest teams on the field ever to appear in Ursinus colors. Although Coach McAvoy claims all positions to be open, it is expected that captain Costello, Bonkoski, Wildonger and Dresch will fill up the backfield.

Costello should prove to be the spearhead of the attack. Bonkoski does the kicking. Wildonger and Dresch will probably do most of the blocking and ball-carrying. Vaccaro and Brandt, though handicapped by lack of weight, are two fast backs who should see action. Power and Gurzynski, of last year's frosh squad, also are expected to break in.

Tworzydlo, with two year's varsity experience, has added weight and should be a bulwark on defensive end play. Padden, Podley and Eshbach are battling for the other end post.

Ursinus will have her heaviest pair of tackles in many a day if the men out for that post come through. Of these, Worster, Knoll and Mitchener tip the beam at 200. Gushard, a sophomore, should see action before the season's end. The team will be well fortified at the center post. Porambo, the biggest of the candidates, should take the post, but he will be given plenty of competition by Pancoast and Mecklos, though both are handicapped by lack of weight.

PNEUMONIA ATTACK PROVES FATAL TO DR. J. M. ANDERS, SENIOR BOARD MEMBER, AT HIS SUMMER HOME IN MAINE

Freshman Enrollment Surpasses Last Year

Number of Freshman Students Approaches Two Hundred Mark 300 OLD STUDENTS RETURN

Indications are that the enrollment this year will be the largest in the history of the College. Already more than one hundred and seventy-five new students have registered and there are others in prospect which should bring the number of incoming students up close to the two hundred mark. With approximately three hundred old students returning, the total enrollment should be in the neighborhood of five hundred students. This will tax the facilities of the College to capacity.

There will be a number of students from new areas not before reached by the College. This is in line with the policy adopted by the Board of Directors in connection with a recommendation made by the Registrar last fall. A detailed analysis of the enrollment will be given in next week's issue of the Weekly.

Prof. Carter Returns to Post After Year's Leave of Absence

Ursinus College opens its sixty-seventh academic year with few faculty changes.

Harvey L. Carter, associate professor of History and Public Speaking, returns after a year's leave of absence.

Dr. Phillip Goepf, professor of Music, died during the summer, and J. W. Leman, director of the band and orchestra, resigned. Dr. William F. Phillip, who joined the Ursinus faculty last year, will have charge of all musical activities at the College.

Noted Physician, Writer Was Director of Ursinus College For Past 42 Years

Dr. James M. Anders, distinguished Philadelphia physician, and a native of Fairview Village, this county, died of pneumonia on August 29, at his summer home, "Wakonda," at Bluehill Falls, in Maine. He was 82.

In his 60 years in the medical profession, Dr. Anders contributed many outstanding achievements in medical research, science and education. His work in the field of public health and public welfare in Philadelphia was outstanding.

He Was Senior Member of Board
He was a director of Ursinus College for the past 42 years. He was elected to the Ursinus board in 1894.

Several months ago he was honored at a testimonial banquet, given by the Ursinus Alumni Association of Philadelphia, in recognition of his leadership and years of devotion in the interests of the College.

Perkiomen School President
In the field of education he took a great interest in the Perkiomen School, Pennsburg, serving as president of the board of trustees of that institution for many years.

The son of Samuel Drescher Anders and Christina Meschter Anders, the noted physician and writer was born at Fairview Village, Montgomery county, on July 22, 1854. He studied at the public elementary and high schools at Norristown and at the Mennonite theological seminary at Wadsworth, Ohio.

In 1877, he was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine and that year also received his degree of Doctor of Philosophy. During the years immediately ensuing he served on

ANDERS' WILL PROVIDES FOR $15,000 BEQUEST TO URSINUS

Under the will of the late Dr. James M. Anders, prominent Philadelphia physician and chairman of the board of directors, Ursinus College is bequeathed $15,000. The College will receive $5000 now and the balance at the death of his widow.

Dr. Anders also bequeathed $20,000 to the Perkiomen School at Pennsburg, $50,000 to the University of Pennsylvania, and a $4000 trust fund to the First Schwenkfeldian Church of Philadelphia.

NOTICE, FRESHMEN!

There will be a meeting of all freshman men to-morrow evening, Tuesday, September 15, at 8:30. The meeting is compulsory, by order of the Men's Student Council.

Editorial Comment

FOR FRESHMEN

It is the annual custom of the Weekly to extend a hearty welcome to the incoming freshman class of Ursinus. This hospitable act usually takes place after the new class has been swamped with welcomes on all sides from various organizations of the College and is usually recognized as just another "glad to have you with us."

The Weekly could print a large front page streamer headline blaring a "Welcome to Ursinus" but it would make no more impression than usual even though it captioned a long article explaining your duty as a student, to yourself and to the College, and offering a detailed account on how to become successful. You, the class of '40, have heard lessons preached all about you since leaving high school, and you know what is expected of you by now,

Instead the Weekly accepts you as a part of a college community. As such you will be expected to carry certain responsibilities which are required of each individual living among a group of others. Laws, both written and unwritten, must be followed if harmony is to exist in the civic life of the college community. These laws are already known by you and you know what to do.

Now that you are a part of this group life you will want to keep in touch with the activities of the school. You will want to know what's "going on" and that is why we invite you to use the Weekly. Our function is to keep the student body in contact with our small world on the campus. An invitation to become a member of the staff will be issued later in the year.

Therefore, the Weekly joins with others in welcoming you, the class of '40, as an intrinsic addition to Ursinus College and—good luck!

THE APPROACH TO LEARNING

To the entering freshman who is proceeding through the various phases of the orientation week program, any suggestion regarding the work which shall follow during the succeeding weeks is sure to sound like "old stuff," and is consequently to be quickly brushed aside. This is as it properly should be.

It is useless, perhaps harmful, to begin the weeks of concentrated study unless there has first occurred a refashioning of the spirit with which learning is approached. College work, unlike secondary school work, is not a series of lessons to be learned; college work is to be interpreted in terms of ends to be achieved.

Learning here is less an accretion and more an infusion. Except it mold and refashion the life of the individual, the learning is fruitless.

Long, grinding hours of application will eventually yield knowledge. Sustained and devoted hours applied to the acquisition of culture will also finally develop new and unexpected resources of the personality. For their attainment a strict discipline is necessary, but these are the tangibles which remain years after the roar of the football crowd dies on the air.

RAMBLINGS

Early September again brings that thrill of returning to campus, greeting old friends, meeting new ones, cheering the team, dating the co-ed, dancing at proms, relaxing at hangouts, running the frosh, receiving mail, and scores of other delightful pastimes. But strangely enough, this September feeling sweeps along without a care, and omits the most important item of all—classes.

A word of warning to the freshman girls—. Within a week you'll be engulfed in a mad turmoil such as you probably have never experienced before. But don't be alarmed, it is merely the annual upper-classman rush for dates, and from the ensuing confusion you will begin to see couple after couple slowly emerging,—to be merged for the rest of the year.

We welcome a new women's dormitory to the campus and we await with interest the coming battle for social supremacy. We have observed South's long dynasty fall before the onslaught of the young set of Clamer, and now shall we see Clamer lose her newly acquired honors to Fetterolf's?

Having recently reached our majority, we cannot pass up this opportunity for mentioning a few political thoughts. What will the coming Presidential election mean to the NYA? And speaking of relief, we still see 14 carloads of Roosevelt voters passing through Collegeville on the Reading every day, on the way to six hours of boondoggling.

As an expression of welcome, the Sophomores cordially invite the newly arrived frosh to a lawn party in their honor to be held Thursday evening. The freshmen will be gratified to learn that the dress will be informal. Refreshments will be served before, during and after the delightful program which is being arranged by a thoughtful sophomore committee. Come, and bring a friend, and have a gay time.

FROM OUR FILES

Five years ago plans were drawn up for the organization of a new Varsity Club. The reason for the formation of such a club was to raise the importance of letters to a much higher position and make them a more coveted prize.

Ten years ago the Ursinus relay team competed in the 32nd annual relay carnival held on Franklin Field in Philadelphia and succeeded in capturing third place.

Twenty five years ago a group of students enjoyed a straw ride from Collegeville to Phoenixville and return. In Phoenixville the group enjoyed a party and refreshments.

In our files we notice that Ursinus beat F. & M. College in baseball 5-1, which wasn't such a bad showing for our men.

Twenty years ago the first women's intercollegiate debate in the State of Pennsylvania was held at Swarthmore College between Penn State and Swarthmore.

Ten years ago Dr. White's History 8 class presented a novel feature in academic life at Ursinus. They staged familiar scenes of American History, the play entitled "Sesqui-Centennial Sketches." The first scene presented the rejoicing after the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The historical characters were played by the class members. The second scene was the home of James Madison. Tariff and slavery were the subjects under discussion. The third scene featured a discussion of the Republican and Democratic platforms of 1876 along with that of woman suffrage. The fourth scene had to do with a discussion of international affairs of the present day.

Five years ago Ursinus won the conference title for Central Pennsylvania in track. This was the first victory of its kind that Ursinus has won.

CLASS AUTHORIZES STAFF TO EDIT SMALL 1937 RUBY

Complete Staffs to be Chosen Soon;
Contracts Signed in June

According to an announcement by the staff of the 1937 Ruby, this year's annual will be reduced in page size from nine by twelve inches to seven and three-quarters by ten and one-half inches but with a probable slight increase in the number of pages. The statement follows:

"Whereas the financial difficulties entailed in the production of a large book have proven insurmountable during the past two years, the class of 1937 has authorized the Ruby staff to reduce the size of the book, and accordingly has levied an assessment of $4.00 upon each member of the class. The book itself will sell at $3.50 if paid before January 15, 1937, or $4.00 thereafter.

"Inasmuch as the staff feels the heaviest of obligations to keep the budget within bounds, certain guarantees will be asked of all those individuals and organizations who financed the yeabook in order that complete payment of all the debts may be insured at an early date."

Eugene Shelley '37, editor, and Sieber Pancoast '37, business manager, will announce the editorial and business staffs within the next two weeks. It is expected that photographing of the seniors will begin next week to be followed by the juniors and sophomores. The freshman class will be photographed as a group.

Contracts for the photographing, engraving, and printing of the Ruby were signed before the close of the College last spring with Sarony Studios, Inc., Phototype Engraving Co., and Lyon and Armor, Inc., the firms who did the work last year. Leonard Cadwell '34, has again been engaged to take pictures of all sports.

URSINUS TO HAVE N. Y. A.

Professor F. I. Sheeder has announced that the National Youth Administration will again provide funds for the employment of 56 students at Ursinus.

FRESHMAN HANDBOOK EDITED BY F. DITZEL AND K. CLOUSE

Wallick and Tworzydlo Handle the Finances and Advertisements

The eighteenth edition of the "Y" Handbook, edited by Fred Ditzel '38, was published and presented to the incoming freshmen class when they arrived at the College. The publication is put out jointly every year by the Y. M. and Y. W. organizations of the College.

The staff has continued the policy of presenting in compact form all the vital information about the various activities of Ursinus. With the publication of this volume, the staff has included material which is essentially the same as in former years although the arrangement and lay-out is different.

In addition to the Editor, the staff included Kenneth Clouse '38, associate editor, Charles Wallick '38, business manager, and Frank Tworzydlo '37, assistant business manager.

At the University of Syracuse a professor locked the door exactly at the start of class. One minute later a group of students pounded on the door and howled, "We demand our inalienable rights." The students left outside finally called the janitor to unlock the door. The professor gave a warning that the first person to enter the room would be forcibly evicted. When the door opened, in walked the school wrestling champ. The professor turned red, fingered his pipe nervously, and dismissed the class.

Illness Is Fatal to Dr. Anders, Noted Philadelphia Physician

the staff of the Episcopal Hospital, the Philadelphia Hospital and the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital. At the latter institution, he was elected to the chair of Theory and Practice of Medicine and Clinical Medicine, a position which he held for 25 years, prior to becoming professor emeritus.

With the merging of the Medico-Chirurgical College and the University of Pennsylvania, in 1916, Dr. Anders became Professor of Medicine and Clinical Medicine at the graduate school of the University.

He was also consulting physician to a number of hospitals.

Affiliated with numerous medical groups, Dr. Anders was during his long career, president of the Philadelphia Medical Club, president of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, president of the Philadelphia County Medical Society and one-time chairman of the Medical Section of the American Medical Association.

Through all this time he was working on botanical and medical research and, while still a very young man, made the discovery that flowering plants generate ozone. For this discovery he was later decorated by the French government. He was a lifetime member of the Academy of Natural Sciences, City Parks Association and the Pennsylvania Forestry Association.

Wrote Text Book

Dr. Anders contributed numerous articles to newspapers, magazines and medical journals. His most famous work is "Theory and Practice of Medicine," published in 1898. The book is regarded everywhere as a valuable text for students and guidebook for physicians.

He was responsible for founding the First Schwenkfelder Church, at 30th and Cumberland streets, Philadelphia, and for a number of years was Moderator of the church.

In 1914 he was named to the Philadelphia board of health which post he held until his death.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 1820 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. Burial was private. His wife, Mrs. Margaret Wunderlich Anders, survives. Dr. Warren Z. Anders, of Collegeville, is a surviving nephew.

FOUR RELIGIOUS CONFERENCES HELD HERE DURING SUMMER

As has been the custom for the past several years, Ursinus this summer was the scene of four religious conferences held under the auspices of the Methodist and Reformed Churches and the Pennsylvania Council of Churches.

From July 13 to July 23 the Asbury Summer School of Ministerial Training held its classes.

Between July 25 and 31 the Collegeville Missionary Conference of the Evangelical and Reformed Church held its meetings. During the six days from August 3-9, the Collegeville Assembly heard such distinguished speakers as Dr. Adam W. Bunett D. D., Glasgow, the Rev. John F. Kuennen D. D., Princeton Theological Seminary, Pres. William F. Curtis Litt. D., of Cedar Crest College and Harry M. Krimmel of the Westminster Choir School.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church held the final conference of the summer from August 10 to 16.

sylvania Retailers Association, the Upper Darby National Bank, and has been an alumni director of the College since 1927. He resigned his position with Gimbel Brothers and took up his new duties August 16.

Rev. Niblo Is New Director
At the same meeting the Board elected Rev. James M. Niblo, D. D., of Norristown to the Board of Directors of Ursinus College.

Dr. Niblo is a native of Montgomery County, was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania and the Philadelphia Divinity School, and has served as rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Norristown, for the past ten years. One of the outstanding clergymen in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, Dr. Niblo is a member of the finance committee of the Diocese and was recently appointed canon residentiary of the Cathedral Church of Christ in Upper Roxborough. Throughout his ministry he has manifested an interest in the education of young men and women.

His election to the governing body of Ursinus is a mark of the increasingly closer relationship between Norristown in particular and Montgomery County in general and the County's oldest college.

GRIZZLIES END SECOND WEEK OF SPIRITED TRAINING DRILL

The guard positions are a toss-up between Todt, James, Balsis and Yoemans.

In the final analysis, although inexperienced, the Bear forward wall will be big and heavy.

The Grizzlies are closing their second week of drill under coaches McAvoy and Stevens. Most of the boys have had good conditioning jobs the past summer and were in uniforms the first week but as yet no scrimmages have been held.

For hundreds of years the Persians have known the secret of fine flavor. In the dead of night a Persian "melon-diviner" may wake up his wealthy master to enjoy the perfect melon—picked by lamplight at its exact moment of full maturity.

The Secret of Fine Flavor..

Like the Persian melon, the Turkish tobaccos used in Chesterfield are watched day and night.

There is just one right time to take off the leaves...that's when they have ripened to their fullest flavor.

Often the tender ripe leaves are gathered just before the dawn...to preserve the full "spice" and aroma for Chesterfield.

From our own Southland we take mild, ripe tobaccos chock-full of Southern sunshine; then we go 4000 miles to the fertile shores of the Mediterranean for the fine flavor and aroma of Turkish tobaccos. These tobaccos give Chesterfields their milder better taste.
